

Thank you for participating in Pens to Lens! Please read all provisions fully.
By agreeing to this release, the designer affirms that they have read and understand the following:

Liability

- These scripts are being provided, as part of the contest, by the Champaign Urbana Film Society (CUFS), Champaign Movie Makers (CMM), and the Champaign-Urbana Design Organization (CUDO).
- Designers acknowledge that CUFS, CMM, and CUDO are not legally or financially responsible for designs.
- Designers acknowledge that they are legally and financially responsible for their own designs.

License/Distribution

- Designers understand that they do not hold full, unlimited, rights to their chosen script. The rights they do hold include the ability to produce a design based on it. Signing this document does NOT give designers the rights to sell, sublicense, or otherwise profit from their chosen script.
- Designers grant CUFS, CMM, and CUDO perpetual, non-exclusive rights to display and distribute their designs. Additionally, Designers agree that the organizations may choose, at their discretion, to sell prints of the design with all proceeds benefiting the Pens to Lens program.
- Designers agree to not publicly post their designs online until after the premiere gala event.
- Designs will be hosted on the Pens to Lens website and the CUDO Facebook page. Designers may post the films on their individual accounts or sites, as long as they do not post before the gala.

Script Anonymity

- Due to privacy concerns, CUFS will handle all communication between designer and the writer's legal guardians. If a designer wishes to contact a writer and/or a writer's legal guardian, they should do so by emailing info@penstolens.com
- The scripts are provided without writer identification; if you do find out who wrote a particular script, we ask that you do not select a script by a child you know personally. We want the scripts to be evaluated on their own merits, and not to give preferential treatment.

Credits

- Designers may choose to include credits for the writer and filmmakers (if applicable). If a designer wishes to receive credit information, they should email info@penstolens.com.
- Designers will prominently indicate that the project was produced as a part of the Pens to Lens contest. Logos to be included in the design will be provided.

Content

- Designers agree to ensure that visual elements do not violate copyright. If designers use any third party content, it is the responsibility of the designer to secure written permission from the copyright holder. CUDO may require designers to submit paper copies of any stock image licenses or permissions.
- Designs cannot contain content inappropriate for their writers' age group.

Failure to follow the terms of this agreement (as determined by the CUDO board of directors) may result in a design not being shown at the Pens to Lens gala and/or revocation of a designer's legal right to adapt a participating script. If these terms are not followed, the Board may reassign the script and any existing design elements to be completed by another designer.

Please email penstolens@thecudo.org if you have any questions about this agreement.
